Charles Mann Training and Consultancy aims to be the leading provider of digital media, online marketing and ICT related training and consultancy in south east Asia. We want to help you and your business grow through better practices and will guide you through the latest developments of the digital world without breaking your budget.

Charles Mann Training and Consultancy provides high quality training courses, ranging from bespoke training solutions to topic-specific workshops and seminars for all types of businesses. As a leading international provider of training and consultancy, Charles Mann ensures the correct expertise and knowledge are presented in the most cost effective and efficient manner possible.

Originally setup in the United Kingdom in 1996 by fresh graduates in the pioneering subject area of Multimedia, Charles Mann has helped many organisations and companies since then, conducting consultation sessions along with training programmes, gaining over 15 years experience.

Charles Mann has created for itself a reputation among clients located across a broad global spectrum covering the United Kingdom, Saudi Arabia, United Arab Emirates, Malaysia and Singapore.

By operating and providing effective consultancy since 1996, the very formative period of mass take-up of the world wide web and online digital use by both commercial organisations as well as consumers, Charles Mann has amassed vast experience as the technology and services have evolved. Charles Mann has always been at the forefront of analysing and studying emerging technologies, and therefore passing on critical knowledge to small and medium sized businesses and organisations, equipping them with skills and understanding to further enhance their respective setups.

We are proud to have worked with a wide range of companies, trade bodies and non-profit organisations, providing them with training, consultations and mentoring in all key areas of business related to technology.

In 2012, Charles Mann expanded its services to include Malaysia and became an approved training provider with HRD Corp (formerly HRDF), enabling our courses to be 100% claimable under the SBL-Khas hhascheme. Furthermore, in 2015, Charles Mann was selected as an official partner of Google in south east Asia. No matter how small or large your business, we are here to help you with your learning needs and can help you in making the most of online and offline digital technologies.

Charles Mann Training and Consultancy is proud to offer a broad selection of exciting and business-relevant training courses, covering critical areas of digital technologies that businesses can benefit from.

With emphasis placed on offering the best structured courses, developed around tried and tested methods used in the United Kingdom, you can be assured that our training sessions are great value and well-structured, designed to enhance and springboard your business or organisation to success within their respective sectors.

Specialising in subject areas that are vital today, Charles Mann offers courses including:

Charles Mann believes in offering the most flexible solutions to businesses and organisations. With this in mind, we aim to offer training programmes in public venues, easily accessible for all attendees and offering a comfortable adult orientated learning environment.

We also understand that occasionally, a business may require a more specific and tailored in-house solution, combining various elements of our offerings into a dedicated strategy, fulfilling the requirements of a particular marketing or online strategy. With this in mind, Charles Mann is happy to work in conjunction with those clients preferring this solution.

Designing Persuasive Websites Training Course

Creating and developing a website is no longer a difficult or complex process, with most businesses having some sort of identity online. Additionally, driving traffic to your website is only half the battle with the other half being getting them to engage, buy or enquire.

All marketing efforts in bringing visitors to your website are pointless if these visitors exit your website without buying or getting in touch, or performing some sort of interaction. This unique website design and strategy training course will give you a thorough understanding of the principles of persuasive website design, resulting in helping you create web design briefs that will help develop online pages that truly add value to your business or brand. You will discover that making some simple changes to your web pages can make a huge difference to the number of people who read your content, browse your pages, complete your enquiry forms or make a purchase.

Through a mix of theory, practical exercises and examples, this training course will show you how to apply the essential principles of website persuasion, ensuring that you offer a great experience to your website visitors.

COURSE PROGRAMME:

Effective Email Marketing Training Course

Email Marketing is one of the most cost effective and powerful forms of online digital marketing and often forms the core of corporate marketing strategies. When managed properly, email marketing can be an effective method of promoting products and services, as well as effectively engaging with customers and clients. It is inexpensive, reliable, measureable and the return on investment (ROI) can be very high.

But it's getting harder and harder to capture the attention of email subscribers and to engage with them effectively. It is also becoming difficult to conduct campaigns without damaging your brand, especially as recipients are now more wary of SPAM marketing and online fraud.

Our new fully-revised Email Marketing training course, also known as EDM (Email Direct Marketing), has been designed to help you make substantial improvements to your email blasting campaigns. By taking you through the fundamental principles behind email marketing strategies, you will gain an impressive insight into this advertising medium and will be able to confidently deploy and manage effective campaigns.

Search Engine Optimisation Training Course

Search Engine Optimisation (SEO) is widely regarded as an important and fundamental part of any digital marketer's arsenal, yet it still remains very misunderstood by many who still follow SEO techniques from the 90's and early 2000's. Search Engine Optimisation has come a long way since then due to Google setting the standard and high bar for websites to aspire to. However, the techniques and SEO strategies that can be employed are relatively simple to achieve.

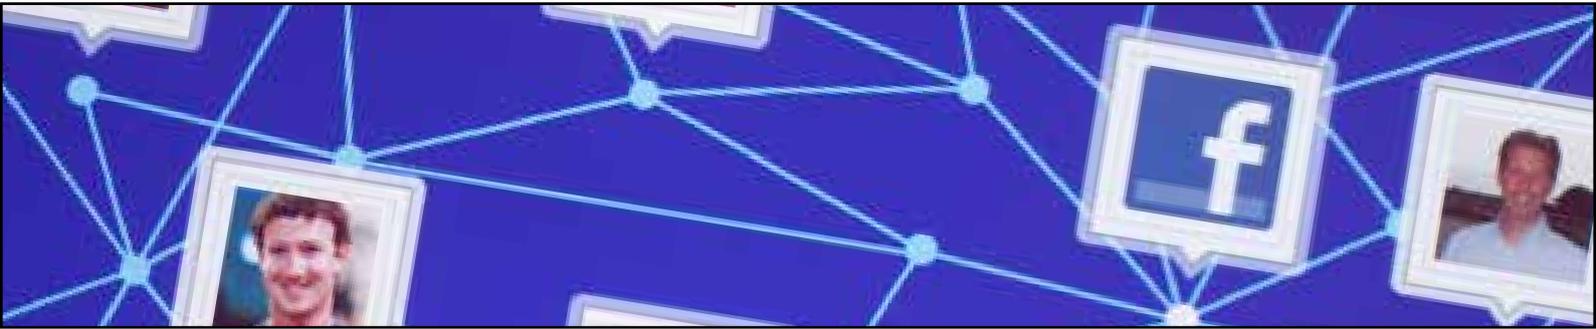

Our SEO training course and workshop demystifies the jargon associated with search engine optimisation, helping marketers, designers and developers create successful SEO campaigns that will compliment other online marketing activity as well as improve ranking in Google search and other major search engines.

The day is packed full of useful strategies, case studies, recommended tools and the very latest research on best practice. It aims to empower attendees to run their own SEO campaigns or to better manage their SEO agency relationships.

COURSE PROGRAMME:

- Overview of the search marketing landscape
- How search engines work and rank relevant websites in search results

Social Media Crisis Management Training Course

Social media has changed the way we look at crisis management. There are many examples of large reputable brands going through challenging times and poorly dealing with crises, especially in the digital domain. A huge percentage of issues now start within social media platforms and spread through this space very quickly. Social media has become the preferred outlet where opinion is formed and also where a crisis is managed, in a very public manner. Therefore, if businesses and organisations have not made their crisis management plan social media compliant, it may now be ineffective and out of date.

This one day training course and workshop will teach what to do in order to create a crisis management plan that is social media compliant and effective when so exposed via online platforms and channels. It will also provide an understanding of how customers and citizens use social media to vent opinions and give feedback, as well as how organisations can respond in crisis situations, including areas such as correcting negative brand perceptions as well as removing abuse and spam content on social media platforms.
